

The North Carolina Governor's School proudly announces the Governor's School Fellows program.

Are you 20-26 years old and interested in education, leadership, or working with high school students?

Come and join an incredible experience at the NC Governor's School.

The Fellows program is a five week residential internship. Each Fellow receives free room and board and a salary based upon their educational level and experience, ranging from $2450-$2600.

- Gain classroom and administrative experience with educators from around the country.
- Develop a further understanding of an area of focus based upon your interests needs of the program.
- Lead a group of students through the residential life on a college campus.
- Attend weekly leadership seminars with state educational leaders.
- Inspire and lead bright and talented students from every corner of North Carolina.

As a Governor's School Fellow you will join a team of educators and students in building an engaging, learning community and be among the scholars selected to lead them.

The NC Governor's School is the oldest program of its kind in the nation and has inspired similar programs throughout the United States. Bright and talented high school students from across the state undergo a competitive application process to be selected to attend.
